

Beyond Building - installations started

Written by
Sunday, 20 July 2008 15:17

We've not been seeking a lot of publicity at Beyond Building, our Solar Neighbourhoods scheme has been so popular that we haven't needed it. But we couldn't keep it quiet as in the last couple of weeks, after months of dealing with compliance issues, we've started installing the first of the 600 or so houses in our shire that have signed up to put photovoltaics on the roof (that's about 5% of the houses). Our local paper, the Echo covered it on the front page, and the regional daily also gave ran a

tory

s

. We had a good turnout to our celebration, and launched our newest version of the scheme - the

Byron Solar Shire

- where smaller groups who missed out the first time can come onboard as well.