

As of 18th Dec 2013 I'm back in the US with no upcoming travel plans.

The easiest way to reach me is almost always email to mitra@mitra.biz.

Since I travel a lot I use a local phone number in most countries, so I have quite a few phone numbers.

Most of the numbers you may have for me are likely to be out of date (e.g. Indonesian, Australian or US mobile numbers).

My skype number +1(510)984-2639 is usually setup to forward to whatever local number I'm using, and is a good one to use if you aren't sure which country I'm in. It should also go to voicemail, which I get as soon as I get online. Please make sure to leave your number twice as quality can be poor.

You can't SMS to that number yet (hope Skype fix that soon).

If you have skype, then skyping mitra_earth is also good - as that also goes to my mobile or voicemail, and is often better quality.

If the skype number doesn't forward, and you know where I am then you can try these numbers, but note that I can't access the voicemail on any of them when I'm out of that country.
