

NOTE: Natural Innovation is on indefinite hold as I devote all my time to Lumeter Networks.

I am the Executive Director of Natural Innovation .org

Natural Innovation works to support & mentor innovator in, or focused on, developing countries. To help them get their idea completed, and scalably distributed.

I started this because of the critical need for business advise and access to finance for those, who typically self-identify as engineers or inventors rather than entrepreneurs and are working on the technology aspects of solving critical problems for the bottom billion.
